BSC's new Bell Tower slowly grew during the summer of 1999. On October 12, the Bell Tower was dedicated, signaling its completion.

Edwards Bell Tower

SGA President, Anne Tyler Hamby, assists the Edwards with the cutting of the ribbon. Seeing their Bell Tower finally completed was an exciting moment for the Edwards.

Clint Spears and LeeAnn Massey are one of the lucky ones to find a seat before the dedication begins. The tent where the dedication was held overflowed with students, faculty, staff, and media reporters.

Construction workers put finishing touches on the Tower, awaiting the arrival of the bells. Everyone was on pins and needles to see if everything would come together in time. Photos by Amber Friend and Carroll Redd.

Bill and Julia Edwards stand proudly by the plaque inside the bell tower. The Edwards, alumni of BSC, generously donated money to the college in order for the Bell Tower to be built.

Edwards' Bell Tower, without a doubt, is a welcome addition to the campus. Many students were skeptical of how it would affect the look of the academic quad. Once it was completed, students began to take pride in having it on the campus.

One of the favorite features of the new Bell Tower is the lighting at night. In addition to the BSC Alma Mater, the Bell tower is programmed to play a host of other tunes as well.

As classes started, students viewed the progress of construction daily. Everyone patiently watched workers put on the finishing touches to the tower including the landscaping surrounding the tower.

Members of Bill and Julia Edwards' family from around the United States attended the dedication ceremony. Gathering for a picture was a poignant moment.

Times Spent at BSC

Nitin Chhabra discusses his post-graduation plans with Chaplain Stewart Jackson. The Faculty and Staff at BSC were not only teachers and mentors to the students, but friends as well.

Senior art major, Angie Elliot, proudly stands by her painting that took the Best of Show award during the Juried Art Exhibition. The Juried Show was popular because it allows both art and non-art majors to enter pieces.

Wilson Pace enjoys reading the morning paper while finishing his breakfast.

Freshmen Emily Lewis and Melanie Terrell use humor as a form of stress release while working in their organismal lab.

James Hale and Matthew Hanson dig their heels in to clench a tug-of-war victory for their fraternity, Sigma Nu. The Greek Week Games were designed to provide healthy competition, but most importantly they were a lot of fun.

Tired after pulling an all-nighter, senior, Kerwin Lonzo, goes to turn in his last paper of the semester.

Brooke Childress and Ashley Hudson find the Southern Comfort Carnival quite fun, but fellow friend Katie Hinz is overwhelmed by all the choices of games to play.

Jennifer Joseph attempts to calm a startled Sharon Wos as Elaine Haskins recalls the scary movie she saw last night. All photos by Claire King.

Warm weather always seems to find people emerging from the caf to eat in the Alumni Plaza. It was not uncommon to find students catching up with their friends over lunch or dinner, or cramming in that last bit of information before rushing off to their next class to take a test. Although students stayed busy with academics during the year, they also found numerous ways to unwind from the hustle and bustle of college life. Photo by Claire King.

Move- in Day

Who Chis Saira Faruqui and Ashley Hanson help Natalie Perkins settle in on the Hilltop.

After a long day of moving into their rooms and saying goodbye to their parents, these roommates prepare to begin new and exciting chapters in their lives.

Peer Advisors Amanda Hutton Stainton and Laura McGahey receive instructions on where to take the new student's belongings.

Shannon Mancin and Stewart Jackson deliver snacks to the Move-in Day helpers. They were a welcomed sight, bearing water and muffins. Photos by Sireesha Allemneni and Susan Wallace.

Kim White-Spunner and Lauren Russell wonder how they are going to arrange their room.

Reid Williams and Mitch Robinson use their strength to carry a heavy box to Margaret Daniel.

Taking a break from unpacking, Laura Rogers and Robin Love show their excitement at becoming new roommates.

Orientation Week

RAs and SOS members come together during Orientation Week to help students to make the adjustment into college life.

Orientation Week is a time for new students to get to know each other through fun activities, such as the Square Dance and Goofy Games on the dorm quad.

Laura Soule, an SOS member, takes part in Goofy Games by demonstrating the rules of this game.

These Freshmen show off their dancing skills. The Square Dance proved to be a big hit again this year.

Here's a good way to get to know your neighbor -- play pass the marshmallow.

The square dance teaches everyone the Electric Slide. He knew just how to get the whole crowd up and dancing.

Adding your own style of dance to traditional steps increases the fun of the Square Dance, as these two students demonstrate.

Outreach Day

Joel Taylor and Kara MacNeil, with the help of Woodrow Wilson students, clean up at Woodrow Wilson Elementary, our partner school.

Outreach Day, held on October 2, 1999, is an annual day of service. It offers opportunities for Birmingham-Southern students to reach out to the community through various activities, such as landscaping and cleaning up elementary schools.

The Wesley Group cleans a truck at Magic City Harvest. Outreach Day was fun and also gave students satisfaction in knowing they had helped someone in need.

Members of Zeta Tau Alpha pose for a picture after doing landscaping work at Cardiff Cemetary. They spent the day making the grounds more presentable.

Chi Omegas, Kathryn Kellum, Anna Donaldson, Laura Merio, and Alice Anne Morgan, organize a local clothes closet. They separated the donated clothes into different cubicles for needy children.

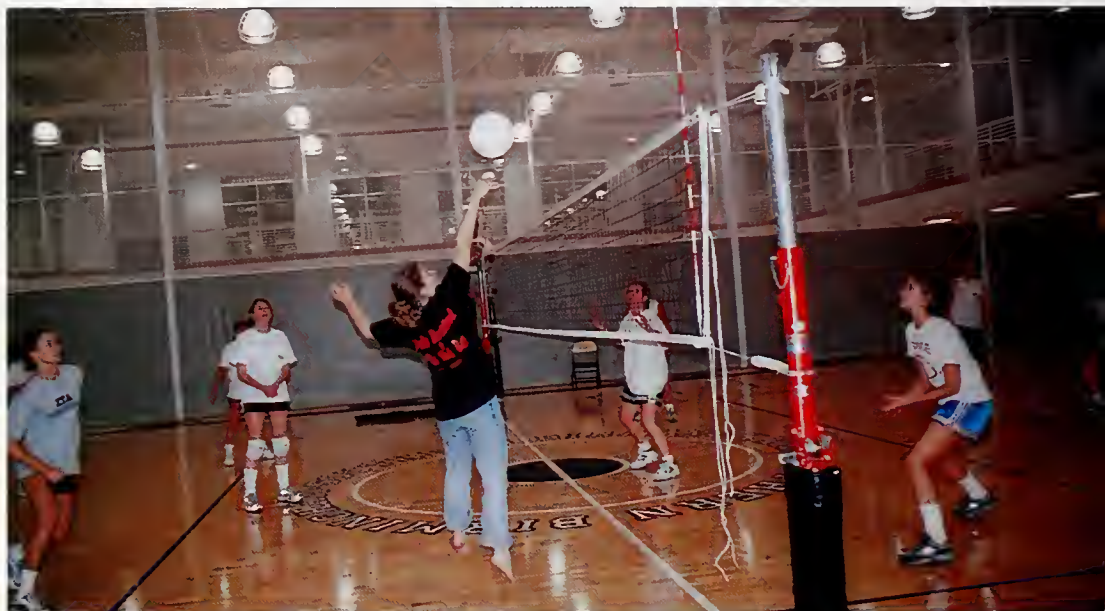

BSC Freshmen have their first experience with service work on Outreach Day. These students did yard work at Woodrow Wilson Elementary.

Food Services the caf & the cellar

Kirstin Anderson takes advantage of The Cellar's relaxing environment. The Cellar also hosted bands and poetry readings

Lunch with friends is a great way to take a break from one's busy schedule. The tables in the caf were always filled with people at mealtimes. All photos by Carroll Redd.

Caroline Gaillard pays for her snack while enjoying Kate McGann's friendly service in The Cellar.

Baseball player, Doug Bates, shows his enthusiasm for the caf's food. Food Service welcomed students ideas and comments on the food.

This student opts for a healthy meal from the salad bar. The caf served healthy options for students who were concerned about what they ate.

Wendi Rahm tries out the popular, new addition of Campbell's Soup in the caf.

Jay Motley chooses from the many fountain drinks available in the caf. The variety of choices available does not make selecting just one an easy task.

Lauren Brewer watches as her sandwich at Claussen Deli is being made.

Halloween on the Hilltop

This little guy concentrates on his game as he teaches bystanders how to play. He proved how much fun Halloween on the Hilltop was for the kids.

It's not every day that you get to go trick-or-treating with an elephant, as this little boy does at the Alpha Chi Omega booth. Photos by the Office of Service Learning.

Sigma Nu's Brian Dranka shows that even with a pie in the face Halloween on the Hilltop is all about having fun.

Notorious for originality in his costume choices, Jamie Grimes outdoes himself as BSC's own bell tower. Prizes were awarded for the best costume.

Zeta Tau Alphas take a break from helping children decorate their own cookies. The variety of the games and activities make the night a huge success.

BSC cheerleaders show off their creativity with their ghostly treats. Started three years ago, Halloween on the Hilltop has become a favorite campus event.

Kids try their hand at the Alpha Chi Omega bucket toss. All the fraternities, sororities, and other campus organizations sponsored booths and games for Halloween on the Hilltop.

Striplin Center

The workout room is always a popular place to be in the afternoon. Students took time out from studying to exercise on the treadmills or bicycles, or to use the weight machines.

Shelley Hyde adjusts the weights on the machine as she prepares to do calf exercises. Having such a nice facility in which to workout made exercise fun.

Beth Dixon gives her all her strength on the last rep. All photos by Amber Friend.

This game room in the Striplin Center is perfect for those students wanting to shoot pool or take in a game of table tennis.

The televisions in the workout room are a nice way to enjoy a workout. Students could exercise and keep up with pop culture.

One of the favorite features of Striplin is the heated, indoor pool. Students can use the pool to swim laps or to participate in a game of intramural water polo.

Will Chason enthusiastically shows off his slam dunk moves.

Security

The Security guards at BSC do more than allow people to enter campus and give tickets to students parking in illegal spots. They have been known to change flat tires and take students to the airport. The Security staff at BSC, with their cheerful nature and helpful ways, truly become friends to BSC students.

Randy Youngblood, head of BSC security, oversees Move-in Day activities as he rides on his four-wheeler around campus.

This white security car patrolling campus is a familiar sight to BSC students. The security guards monitored campus activity to that things would run smoothly around campus.

Sylvester gives this BSC visitor directions to his destination on campus.

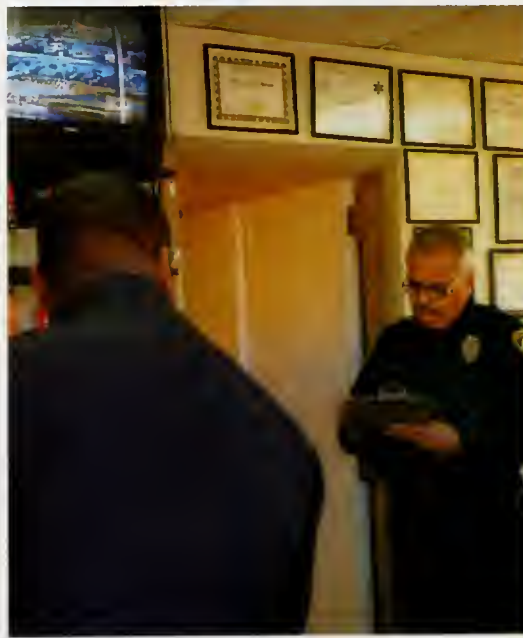

Always expect the famous wave as you make your way onto campus. The "wave" seemed to serve as a friendly way to say hello for both the students and Security.

The distinguished BSC Security Staff poses for a group picture at the beginning of the school year.

A friendly security guard helps point these parents in the right direction on Move-in Day.

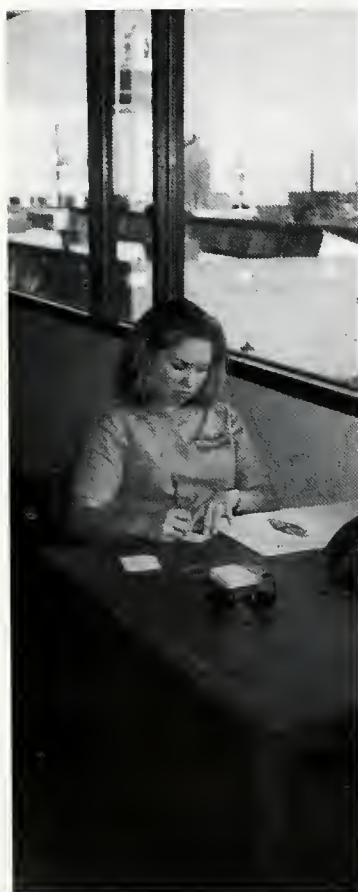

Filing reports is one of the many duties Security must complete. Although it was not the most exciting part of his day, Officer Seravolo finished it anyway.

Valerie Whitfield spends her study time searching through different books in the library to find research.

Kim Polkowski takes advantage of a warm, spring day to study for an exam while enjoying the sunlight.

While there are numerous computers available on campus, it can be difficult to find one during exam time. These students took advantage of the ones in the library to type papers and take-home tests.

Quad Life

Justin Smith uses one of the outdoor tables in front of the Norton Student Center to study for an exam for his next class.

As warm, Spring weather arrives, many students like Kim Schubert take advantage of the sunshine while studying on the dorm quad.

Mollie Rice, C.J. Alexander, and Ed Ford find the steps of Goodwin the best place to just hang out.

As many students know, the deck between Cullen Daniel and Margaret Daniel serves as a popular spot on the Dorm Quad for freshmen to relax.

Taking a study break on the dorm quad, two students enjoy their nap in the sunshine.

Entertainment Fest

Entertainment Fest is a weekend music festival featuring bands of all different musical styles.

Some of the many featured bands were Sounds of Mowtown, The Cheesebrokers, and War.

BSC students show their enthusiasm for the band. Musical groups enjoyed playing at Entertainment Fest because of the good crowd turnout.

Quest II member, Margaret Woodyard, stamps John Bivona's hand so he can go listen to the bands.

These five friends enjoy the atmosphere of this weekend party. E-Fest is one of the biggest campus Events during the Fall Semester.

Sounds of Motown was one of the many featured bands. Playing the students favorite oldies, they are always a crowd favorite.

The Quest II members are evidence that they work hard to put on a successful Entertainment Fest. Members sell t-shirts, tickets, as well as help the band set up.

Friends, Justin Jarvis and Morgan Thompson, hang out and listen to some groovy tunes at Entertainment Fest.

Jessica Minyard, Jennifer Helms, Jamie Kulovitz, Blair Danley, and Amanda Hutton Stainton enjoy a gondola ride through the canals of Venice.

Caroline Mobley tries desperately to make the guard at Windsor Castle crack a smile.

For several years, students have been traveling to New York and other select cities as an Interim project to study different aspects of the culture. One of the many sites they saw this time was the Statue of Liberty.

This dedicated group of students used their Interim to do a service learning project within the community by working with Woodlawn students.

Homecoming 2000

"Sign of the Times: A salute to the 20th century."

Tom Franklin and Shannon Mancin take part in the fashion show sporting their favorite looks from past decades. The theme for Homecoming was "Sign of the Times: A salute to the 20th century."

As part of Homecoming Week students, like Katie Guerin, participated in the Red Cross Blood Drive.

Participants in the hamburger eating contest, one of the many festivities of the week, draw a large crowd of onlookers.

Pi Beta Phi, this year's winner of the Homecoming banner contest, proudly displays its work. The banners, decorated by student organizations, filled the coliseum the night of the Homecoming game.

Spring Break

Spring Break was a time when students could take a break from their studies to relax. BSC students participated in many different activities and visited numerous places to get away from the stress of school.

While visiting Wilmington, North Carolina, Amy Wear, Reeves Woods, Stephanie Kelly, Carroll Lane Christopher, and Brooke Kendrick are excited over meeting Kerr Smith who plays Jack on "Dawson's Creek."

Alternative Spring Break

This group of students spent their Spring Break in Vieques, Puerto Rico doing service work. They worked hard all week long digging a ditch for an irrigation system being built.

Many Birmingham-Southern students chose to spend their Spring Breaks doing service work. This year, students had the opportunity to visit various service sites, including Washington, D.C., Puerto Rico, and North Carolina.

Taking a break from their service work in Washinton D.C. , Marianna Sellers, April Barber, LaKisha Cargill, and Mary Elizabeth May visit the Washington monument.

Anna Major, Lindsey Thomas, Christi Daniel, and Elaine Haskins prove they can still look glamorous while digging ditches.

Southern Comfort

Alex Cranford and Roger Ball are fierce competitors on the bungee run. A carnival was held the Saturday of Southern Comfort weekend, where students could participate in various games and activities.

The crowd anxiously awaits Cowboy Mouth, one of the bands featured at this year's Southern Comfort. Friday and Saturday night, several local bands performed for students and visitors.

Jamie Grimes stands proudly in front of his sculpture which was presented to the school at the Senior Art Show.

Looking like they are up to something, Rich Stevens, Matt Tully, and BSC Alumni, John Wilson, try to put on their most innocent faces. Students say one aspect of Birmingham-Southern College they enjoy most is the casual atmosphere of the campus. Most people know each other through class or the various organizations, which prevents one from feeling lost. The faculty also make a point to get to know their students on a personal basis and know what is going on in their lives outside of class.

The Panthers give each other much encouragement before the start of an important game. The baseball team is well-known for its comradery and this is apparent on and off the field. Many players say the closeness between the teammates strengthened their performance on the field. Although athletics was an important part of life on the Hilltop, the athletes and their coaches stressed the importance of the "scholar/athlete". Members of each team were dedicated to their particular sport, as well as their education.

Joe Dean, Jr.

Birmingham-Southern welcomes Joe Dean, Jr. as the new Athletic Director. After serving as graduate assistant for Mississippi State and as a head and assistant basketball coach for Kentucky and Central Florida, Joe Dean has proven to be experienced in the area of college athletics. From 1983-1989, Coach Dean served as Head Coach for the BSC Basketball Team and was subsequently inducted into the Birmingham-Southern Hall of Fame. His love for BSC foretold his return to the school as Athletic Director, and in one year, he has taken BSC to a new level. With additions such as a new logo, a cross-country trail, a new athletic scholarship fund, improvements on Striplin, and the transition of BSC to NCAA Division I status, Joe Dean has made a significant impact on 'Southern. As the new director, Coach Dean hopes not only to successfully manage the teams and coaching staff, but also promote awareness and excitement for athletics both on and off campus.

New Sports

The transition into NCAA Division I brings many changes to Birmingham-Southern. BSC is currently a "provisional member" of the NCAA, and will begin competition in its third year of membership. One of the NCAA requirements is the addition of teams to the athletic program. Therefore, BSC has added men's and women's golf to its agenda, in addition to a softball team, for which a field will be built behind the soccer and baseball fields. Moreover, as Dean adds a women's basketball team to the program, he welcomes its new head coach Janine Hoffman whose primary goal is excellence in recruitment. Hoffman "values dedication to sports education, and character" in her prospective team members as she strives to compose a team of Lady Panthers that will lead BSC into the NCAA.

The New Logo

Among the many other improvements made by Birmingham-Southern's Athletic Department is the revision of the BSC logo. The gold letters of BSC are complemented with the addition of the color dark blue as the outline and the incorporation of what has been described as a very "sophisticated-looking panther." The Athletic Department believes that the logo accurately portrays Birmingham-Southern in that it reflects BSC's tradition, school spirit, and drive for excellence both in and outside of the classroom.

From coach to director, Coach Joe Dean continues to represent Birmingham-Southern proudly. Joe Dean serves BSC well, whether coaching the basketball team of 1987 down on the court (above) or serving as a spokesman for the college athletic program (left).

Women's Soccer

Senior team members, Kirsten Schultz, Jessica Jenkins, and Allison Popp, are excited about the soccer season. They will certainly be missed by their teammates next year because they are valuable assets to the team.

Led by Head Coach Lorrin Etka-Shepherd, Assistant Coach Keidane McAlpine, Assistant Coach Maureen McAuliffe, and Team Captains Diane Bassett, Jessica Jenkins, and Megan Natter, the Lady Panthers forge ahead with another winning season, having a final record of 11-7-2. The Women's Soccer Team has made several advances over the past year: they were runners-up in the Trans-South Athletic Conference Championship, losing to Berry College in the Finals, and Freshman Beth Gruver set a team record by scoring four goals in one game against Union College. Congratulations, Lady Panthers!

Midfielder, Kyra Rowland, runs up the field in hopes of helping her team get the ball back. All photos by Susan Wallace

As Lady Panther Diane Bassett kicks her way to winning the game, the crowd cheers in support of the team. The Women's Soccer Team was known for its exciting games.

The BSC fans go wild after the Lady Panthers score another goal. The bleachers by the soccer field always had seats filled with devoted fans. No matter the weather, students always turned out to support their athletic teams.

Men's Soccer

Following their tradition of excellence, the BSC Soccer Team shines with another successful year, making it to the Semi-finals of the NAIA National Championship. Head Coach Preston Goldfarb, his assistant coaches, and Team Captains Thorsten Damm, Igor Ranitovic, Bryan Tharp, and Ryan Neil emphasize the importance of the scholar-athlete as the Panthers succeed both on and off the field. Blessed with a talented offense, a strong defense, and excellent teamwork, the Soccer Team will proudly lead Birmingham-Southern into the NCAA Division I.

Panthers plan strategy and encourage one another as they prepare for a challenging game.

David Kosek and Joe Bassett enthusiastically celebrate another close win as the time on the clock expires.

The BSC Panthers proudly portray the banners they received after becoming the TransSouth Conference champions. This achievement won them a spot at the NAIA National Tournament.

The starters get together before the game to grab a quick pre-game picture. Their ability to work together created an ideal set-up for the game, often allowing the Panthers to obtain the win.

Sophomore Eric Hudgens scores a goal for the Panthers, illustrating the emphasis of offense on the Birmingham-Southern team. BSC's consistency of having a strong, skilled offense explains their success, such as this season's 19-6-1 record.

The team celebrates after winning the conference championship. Players and coaches are ecstatic that months of hard work have finally paid off.

Thorsten Damm deftly handles the ball as he calls to his teammates for support. Named the NAIA player of the year, Thorsten represented Birmingham-Southern's emphasis on academics, athletics, and diversity.

A skilled striker, sophomore Joe Bassett heads the ball into position to set up for a goal. Photos provided by the BSC Soccer Team.

Cross Country

In its third season, the Birmingham-Southern Cross Country team continues to be a competitive factor in the TransSouth Conference.

Thanks to the leadership of Coach Brian Rahaley and Assistant Coach Tim Powell, the Cross Country team succeeded in high placings at every meet in which they competed. Cody Morris, James Pearson, Laura McGahey, and Kim Andrews consistently let the team in placing at meets, but most importantly, the whole team worked together support one another both mentally and physically. The team will continue to be strong when BSC makes the change to NCAA Division I.

The BSC Lady Panthers show their team spirit as they cool off at the TransSouth Conference Meet. The Women's Team includes Anna Major, Pooja Gula, Elizabeth Porter, Kim Andrews, Andrea McNalley, Margaret Edwards, and Laura McGahey.

The women stretch and get ready for the meet at Oglethorpe. This meet proved to be challenging, but they met the challenge by placing 5th overall.

Brian Terrell and Gaurav Khatri support each other as they pace one another in a meet. This shows that Cross Country is not a one man sport, but in fact, requires a great deal of teamwork.

Sophomore Kim Andrews, fights the crowd as she runs in the Oglethorpe University Invitational. Kim succeeded in being the first of the BSC Lady Panthers to finish this race.

Women's Volleyball

Continuing into their second year, the BSC Ladies Volleyball Team "set" up for another season of success. In their 1999 season, the Lady Panthers, led by Coach Cecilla Patterson West and Assistant Coach Larry Hinshaw, showed amazing improvement, achieving a winning record of 23-20 and finishing runner-up in the Trans-South Conference. Several individual members of the team have shown leadership: Miljana Lazarevic led the team in hitting percentage, service aces, and assists; Maja Radakovic excelled in kills; while Kerry Pitts led the Panthers in blocks. Overall, the Birmingham-Southern Volleyball Team radiated the spirit and attitude of BSC, and has definitely proven to be a force to be reckoned with.

Basketball

After another successful season, the Panthers continue to dominate in the TransSouth Conference. Coaches Duane Reboul, Mitch Cole, Scott Stapler, and Mark McCaleb, along with Seniors Clint Spears and Jason Williams, led the team to finishing the regular season as TransSouth Conference Co-Champions. The team continues to develop, as BSC shows incredible recruiting with the addition of 8 new members to the team. Along with its winning tradition, the basketball team continues to represent Birmingham-Southern proudly.

Women's Tennis

Taking on a challenging schedule of numerous Division I teams and past NAIA champions, the Lady Panthers succeed not only in a winning record, but also in doing well at the NAIA Championship Tournament. The BSC team is composed primarily of talented freshmen, and is led by Head Coach Ann Deilen, Assistant Coach Brian Rahaley, and Team Captain Lee Ann Massey. As a traditionally successful team, the Women's Tennis Team is destined to do well in the move to NCAA Division I.

Southern Stars

The Southern Stars proudly represent Birmingham-Southern College as the dance team that performs during basketball games. They excel in promoting school spirit throughout the student body. The Southern Stars' ability to instill pride in the BSC community is evident by the Superior Trophy and several other awards they received at the Universal Dance Association Camp at the University of Alabama. Led by Captain Valerie Lemmons and Co-captain Kim Byram, the Southern Stars continue to be an integral part of the school spirit at BSC.

The Southern Stars have grown to be close friends over the year. Their teamwork and friendships show the benefits of our dance team.

Cheerleaders

The BSC Cheerleaders continued to advance towards excellence with new innovative stunts, exciting cheers, and the addition of male cheerleaders on the team. Not only did the cheerleaders practice year round with support from Mike Robinson and Team Captain Allison Smith, but also they attended the UCA Cheerleading Camp at the University of Alabama in order to improve their skills and heighten school spirit. Rowdy, the BSC Panther, joined the cheerleaders by entertaining crowds and inspiring 'Southern pride in the students.

With togas tied on and ivy for their hair, the Kappa Deltas and Alpha Tau Omegas go all out for their annual Toga Mixer in the fall. Mixers were just one aspect of Greek life at BSC. All the sororities and fraternities encouraged scholarship and service among their members. The fraternities and sororities were consistently above the All-men's and All-women's average GPA. Each greek organization also held their own philanthropy event this year, with the causes ranging from Children's Hospital to Breast Cancer Awareness.

Alpha Kappa Alpha

For over twenty years, the Nu Delta chapter of AKA has been carrying on a tradition of service at Birmingham-Southern. This year was no exception. The ladies of Nu Delta wore their pink and green proudly at a number of campus events including Halloween on the Hilltop, where the ladies sponsored a ring toss, and Outreach Day. Whether it is volunteering at the Festival of Trees, donating clothes to the needy, or sponsoring valuable programs and seminars on campus, Nu Delta is striving to fulfill its goal "to render service to all mankind." --LaKisha Cargill Making their symbol of sisterhood, Carla Thomas, Nina Jones, and Pennie Harvey provide a valuable service to the community by promoting Heart Awareness.

Stephanie Hoover, Cheryl Jackson, Tarja Lawson, and Carla Thomas are out for a night on the town as they enjoy the friendships they have made through Alpha Kappa Alpha.

Alpha Omicron Pi

As Tau Delta celebrates its 75th anniversary, the sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi continue to maintain the high ideals of their sorority. On campus, AOPi's are leaders in all areas, from SGA to Service Learning, while nationally, Tau Delta maintained a tradition of scholarship and rush excellence. Recently named the best AOPi chapter in the nation, Tau Delta enjoys participating in organizations and intramurals and simply being together. Tau Delta hopes to maintain the same tradition, excellence, and sisterhood as they have in the last 75 years. --Jennifer Joseph--

Excited AOPi's await their new pledges on Bid Day. Lindsey Crook, Kristin Ziel, Sarah Marshall, Erin Kendrick, and Lauren Murphy got front row seats in anticipation.

Lauren Bradley, Krista Chandler, and Valle Marzella break it down at AOPi's Mr. Hilltopper. AOPi hosts Mr. Hilltopper, a male beauty pageant, each year in order to raise money for their national philanthropy, Arthritis Research. The theme for Mr. Hilltopper this year was "A Night at the Oscars".

The Senior pledge class, including Amanda McCaghren, Carroll Lane Christopher, Meredith Bruner, Eileen Patzke, Jeanne Sligh, Kara MacNeil, Kim Barnes, Juliet Hettinger, Amanda Reid, Mary Beth Baxter, Jennifer Joseph, Carroll Redd, and Anne Tyler Hamby recall the memories they have had during college.

Merlin, Guinevere, the King, and the Dragon welcome rushees on Skit Night, as AOP brings back memories of Camelot.

Lindsey Crook, Lindsay Peck, and Lindsey Thomas are proud of what they have in common: their names, their smiles, and AOP.

The Junior Pledge class gets up close and personal as they lounge around the Sorority Amphitheatre on Bid Day.

The AOP's are all smiles at their annual Christmas Party. The busy Pandas gather each year to show their sisterhood and Christmas spirit.

Alpha Chi Omega

The sisters of Alpha Chi Omega contribute much to the Birmingham-Southern community through a wide range of activities. The diversity of Alpha Chi can be seen in many pursuits including philanthropic, academic, and extra-curricular activities. Whether it be in the theater or on the soccer field, Alpha Chi sisters can be found striving for personal excellence and achievement. At the forefront of our concern is support for victims of domestic violence. We strengthen this philanthropy through our annual event, Casino. --Tammy Smith--

Freshmen and sophmores Celia Green, Margaret Mroczek, Martha Colmore, Catherine Godbey, and Amanda Wilson bond at the Alpha Chi Sisterhood Retreat at the beginning of the year.

The AXΩ Fall Party, a favorite social event of the year, gives new and old sisters a chance to get together and have a great time. Kate McDowell, Danielle Hardeman, Erica Sutton, and Natalie Gray grabbed a quick zap at the party to remember the fun.

Some like it cold, but the Alpha Chis like it hot at their Inferno mixer with Theta Chi. Beth Dixon, Christi Daniel, Susan Wallace, Elizabeth White, Summer Turvy, Maureen McDermott, and Katherin Belue joined in the fun.

Chi Omega

The Omicron Lambda chapter of Chi Omega has excelled on the BSC campus for over ten years. Our academic reputation is very strong, and XΩs can be seen participating in almost every organization on campus, holding leadership positions in many. Our commitment to community service is seen through our efforts to aid West End Library by providing books, painting "story corners", and tutoring after school. Chi Omegas accomplish all this while upholding high standards of personnel for themselves and for our chapter. The diversity of the XΩ sisters is outstanding, and their friendships formed here, like Chi Omega, will last a lifetime. --Amanda Mills--

Chi Omegas remember the '80's as they prepare for their Halloween Mixer with Sigma Nu. Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors alike showed that they can have fun together, no matter what decade it is.

Christina Long and Amanda Bowen are so excited about their new pledge class as they waited for their new members to run up the hill. Bid Day was an exciting end to a long Rush Week.

Chi Omega seniors always have someone to lean on due to the friendships they have made over the years. This is evident from their closeness shown at the XΩ Sisterhood Retreat.

XΩs love doing community service. Laney Beville and Neha Shah spread their Halloween spirit as they celebrated with two new friends at the Halloween Party that Chi Omega held at West End Library.

Laney Beville, Kim Schubert, Amanda Mills, and Amanda Bowen illustrate the Chi Omega sisterhood as they partied at the Sigma Chi Hurricane Mixer.

New members Meredith Carter, Misty Cummins, Heather Hair, Britta Voss, Shannon Robinson, Charity Shumate, Laura Rogers, and Melanie Barnhart are blown away by the number of friends they have made through Chi Omega at the Sigma Chi Hurricane Mixer.

The Junior pledge class loves to do fun and unique things together. This year, the Juniors added a new member to their class as they bonded at Mule Day.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta sisters continually strive for that which is honorable, beautiful, and highest. Throughout campus and the community, KΔ's are well represented. KiDs is the focus of our philanthropic endeavors as we aid children's organizations and work to prevent child abuse through our fundraiser KΔ Comedy Klub. While incorporating our sociable and fun-loving spirit into our social events, KΔ amazingly leads in scholarship at BSC. KΔ sisterhood continues to grow each year based on a genuine foundation of good scholarship, friendship, and sisterly love. --Gina DeRosier--

Dressed up in their togas, the KΔ freshmen are getting ready to party down Roman-style with the ATQs at their annual Toga Mixer.

The Juniors of Kappa Delta celebrate their new pledge class on Sorority Bid Day by showering the freshmen with posters and festive balloons.

As they sit on the hill during Fraternity Bid Day, Seniors Anna Bowen, Julie Fowler, and Amy Lawson portray how their friendships have grown over the years.

Tip Stewart, Katie Alexander, Allison Head, Amy Lawson, and Gina DeRosier bring in the New Year together as Kappa Delta sisters as they celebrate New Year's Eve.

As music plays in the background, KΔ's, both new and old, have a wonderful time together at their annual Steak Fry. This party was special because the Big Sisters were finally revealed to their Little Sisters.

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Beta Phi emphasizes the four S's of Greek life: Sisterhood, Scholarship, Service, and Social endeavors. In keeping with their tradition of excellence, the Pi Phis spent the past year busy pursuing academic achievements, involving themselves with countless campus organizations, and serving the greater Birmingham community in their numerous local philanthropic activities. The Pi Phis are proud to be the first national fraternity for women as well as owning their own national philanthropy: Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts. --Laura Soule--

By working on a ropes course together, both pledges and actives proved their trust in one another as sisters at their sisterhood retreat.

Zeta Tau Alpha

The sisters of the Alpha Nu chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha are committed to the standards set by our founders over a century ago. Whether it is on the intramural field or in the classroom, Zeta sisters always exhibit their leadership abilities in remarkable ways. We hold high the ideals of service and sisterhood, which can be seen through our continued support of the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation. Through our thoughts, words, and actions, Zetas always strive to "Seek the Noblest." --Jessica Minyard--

Zeta friends Amanda Franklin, Jennifer Lewis, Blair Bassham, and Denise Robbins celebrate a new year at the ZTA Fall Party.

The Zetas formulate some strategic moves at their War Games mixer with Alpha Tau Omega. Donned with war paint and water guns, Jennifer Lewis and Allison Grayson joined in the fun without hesitation.

Bid Day is a great time for Zetas because they add new members to their group. Ryanne Duffie, Laura Alexander, and Marie Kelly are excited Mylesa Myers pledged Zeta Tau Alpha.

Pi Beta Phi pledge sisters Jennifer Compton and Lauren Russell prepare for their Camo mixer with Kappa Alpha by taking aim with their waterguns, ready to shoot.

The range is tame at the Cowboys and Indians mixer as Alpha Chi Omega and Kappa Alpha pair up to have a great Thursday night. Brooke Hoffine, Maureen McDermott, Tammy Smith, and Fionnula Flannery put on their best cowboy outfits and join in the fun.

Ross Lichtenhouse wishes he could be part of the Chi Omega pledge class as he hangs out with them at the  $\Sigma\chi/\chi\Omega$  Hurricane mixer.

Alpha Tau Omega

After 115 years on the Hilltop, Alpha Tau Omega has established itself as a stable and diverse chapter. The familiar warm welcome of ATΩ to Greeks and independents alike shows the acceptance and individuality of the brothers of Alpha Tau Omega. With its members' style and creativity, ATΩ continues to be one of the most innovative and interesting chapters at BSC. Overall, we stand by the founding principles of our fraternity, including the verse: "I am the Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, said the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty." - Revelations 1:8. --Nick Nunnally

Kappa Alpha

Kappa Alpha Order was founded upon the highest ideals of fidelity to God and esteem of woman. Through this tradition, we pride ourselves on our gentlemanly heritage and principles. The brothers of our order represent all aspects of campus involvement while striving to live by the wisdom set forth by our founders. The Phi chapter is repeatedly recognized as one of the top KA chapters in the nation. The brothers are able to maintain this excellence by bearing in mind the words of our spiritual founder, Robert. E. Lee: "The gentleman...strives for that nobleness of self and mildness of character which impart sufficient strength to let the past be but the past." --Jay Robertson

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded on the basis of intellectual and Christian ideals, and the fraternity inspires its members to strive for wisdom, growth, and maturity.  $\Sigma$ AE's are seen in honoraries such as Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, and O $\Delta$ K. They are also visible members of SGA, Honor Council, PSSO, SOS, and Housing Staff. The friendships and dedication to the chapter continue to maintain and improve the high standard synonymous with Sigma Alpha Epsilon. --Craig Langford

Sigma Chi

The Chi Chi chapter of Sigma Chi continues to set the standards for fraternal excellence. Sigma Chi has established itself as a strong example of leadership, scholarship, and service. Based upon the ideals of friendship, justice, and learning, we strive to excel in all aspects of college life. Having been recognized as one of the top  $\Sigma X$  chapters in the nation, our diverse membership challenges us to be sharper men and better Sigma Chis. Our strong brotherhood, founded on the ideals of the White Cross, serves to make well-rounded men of character and integrity. --Justin Jarvis

Sigma Nu

Sigma Nu Fraternity is a brotherhood of men united under the ideals of love, truth, and honor. Sigma Nu is represented in almost every campus organization including Honor Council, PSSO, Quest II, SOS, and Housing Staff. The chapter also received the prestigious Rock Chapter Award given to only six out of 250 chapters nationally. # Theta Chi

Theta Chi displays a great amount of campus and community leadership and involvement. Theta Chi is represented in almost every campus organization including SGA, Quest II, Ivy League, IFC, and many others. The brothers of Theta Chi have volunteered their time to participate in various projects such as tutoring at local schools, working at the Men's Shelter for the homeless, or helping with Outreach International. Even though they stay busy serving both the school and the community, they still find time for an active social life. --Hall Barriklow

The Student Government Association represents Birmingham-Southern's student body. Throughout the year, SGA allocated funds collected through student activity fees to provide services and activities for BSC students. The Attic, a new addition to Birmingham-Southern's campus, was provided by SGA. The new Christmas Party was also new this year.

SOS assisted the incoming freshmen during orientation week to help ease their transition from high school to college. Throughout the year, SOS members were available to assist students with any struggles they encountered. In addition, SOS offered several seminars on topics such as alcohol awareness, eating disorders and AIDS to better educate students on these subjects.

SOS members take a break from assisting orientation activities. They began their preparations for orientation activities a week before the freshmen moved in.

Prior to orientation week, SOS members practice teamwork exercises on a ropes course. In one exercise, SOS members learned to work together in a team building exercise.

InterVarsity Christian Fellowship

InterVarsity Christian Fellowship began on campus three years ago in affiliation with Hilltop Christian Fellowship. As a result of InterVarsity's immense growth, the chapel was no longer able to accommodate all of its attenders. Thus, InterVarsity's weekly Wednesday night meetings moved into the Norton Theatre. In addition, InterVarsity also had weekly Bible studies and daily prayer in the chapel. InterVarsity's purpose was to establish and advance witnessing communities of students and faculty who follow Jesus as Savior and Lord: growing in love for God, God's Word, God's people of every ethnicity and culture and God's purposes in the world.

Southern' Students In Action

The Scarlet Letter was one of many spectacular performances done by the BSC Theater Department during the 1999-2000 year. Hester Prynne, played by Erica Sutton, and Reverend Arthur Dimmesdale, played by Kevin Faraci, demonstrate that the talent at BSC is nothing less than superb. The Fine Arts at Birmingham-Southern College attract a diverse audience to the various performances and exhibitions. This audience includes students and faculty, as well as members of the Birmingham community.

Roger Chillingworth, played by Chris Hardin, attempts to pry the truth out of Reverend Arthur Dimmesdale, played by Kevin Faraci, by befriending him with a cup of tea.

Hester Prynne caresses her daughter Pearl. Leading actress, Erica Rose Sutton, played the role of Hester Prynne in The Scarlet Letter, while the role of Pearl was acted by Dana Ullrich.

The Scarlet Letter

In the final scene of The Scarlet Letter, guilt prompts Reverend Arthur Dimmsdale to reveal the letter "A" on his chest. Both Hester and Pearl mourn over Dimmsdale as shame overtakes his will to live.

Reverend John Wilson, performed by Gabe Belyeu, preaches to the town congregation on a sermon about friendship.

Mistress Hall, acted by Seana McGaha, frowns upon the townspeople as they gossip about Hester Prynne's lifestyle.

Miss BSC Pageant

Junior political science major, Tyrenda Williams, from Birmingham, Alabama, was crowned as Miss BSC 2000. As her talent, she danced a ballet piece to Rhapsody in Blue. Her platform was to "Be your Best Self." During the summer of 2000, Tyrenda will compete for the title of Miss Alabama.

Many students raved about the comical play, "Company," which was performed six times for a sold out audience during May. Lexie Kendrick, singing "The Ladies Who Lunch," acted the role of an upper class, high maintenancwife.

Amy, played by Brooke Hoffine, questions her "soon to be husband," Paul, played by Nat Gunter, whether or not they should really get married.

In "Company," Senior Chris Hardin, who played the role of Robert, is greeted by his friends on his birthday, whom are all married. Each couple portrays their own unique lifestyle, explaining to Robert that marriage is not all that it seems to be. Couple Gabe Belyeu and Lauren Cantrell demonstrate their very goofy, love-hate relationship to Robert, whereas Kirstin Anderson and Daniel Seigel, a very "conservative" couple, let go and decide to experiment with drugs. Robert, nicknamed "Bobby," learns that marriage has its share of ups and downs.

"Rose Waltz," a classical ballet piece, was choreographed by Heather Denosky.

The dance performance featured original works created by sophomore, junior and senior dance students. The choreographies included both classical and contemporary ballet, as well as modern and jazz. Under the supervision of the faculty, the students choreographed, costumed, coordinated, and rehearsed the show which was performed in late February.

"La Joie de Danse," choreographed by Deborah Gray, featured Beth Wiggins, Katie McDowell, Heather Denosky, and Michelle Damweber.

Phillip Velinov created both the costumes and props for the contemporary choreography, "The Intervention."

The opening ballet piece, "Pachelbel," involved the entire cast of dancers, and was choreographed by Deborah Gray and Phillip Velinov.

Professor Ed LaMonte

gives Jackie Alford, Jennifer

Wilson, and Brandi

Granger advice on life outside of college before the Commencement begins.

Although the time around finals and graduation could be quite hectic, seniors say they used the time to reflect on their past four years, especially on how much they had grown and how their lives had changed. Seniors also said they know they will miss college, but feel prepared to face the "real world".

On April 25th, the Birmingham-Southern College campus turned out to celebrate the academic achievements of its community.

Honors Day 2000

Professors stand patiently as the processional of faculty and graduating seniors continues into Munger Auditorium. The processional was part of the traditional "robing in" that occurs on Honors Day.

John H. Burton, Jr. speaks at the Honors Day Convocation. It was enlightening to have a BSC graduate speak about his experiences after he graduated. Mr. Burton spoke of how our world is constantly changing and how that affects our lives.

The Robert Hewlin Jackson Memorial Award is given to the graduating senior with the highest grade point average. This year the recipient was Anna Major.

Provost Penfield and Dr. Berte proudly award a Medal of Service to Charles B. Vail. Mr. Vail's generosity to the college was apparent in his funding of the Vail Fellows Program which allowed students to carry out research in their academic area.

Susan Wallace and April Barber put the last minute touches on their Honors Day presentation. Many students were asked to present projects or papers completed throughout the year with subject matter that ranged from music to biology.

Brad Parsons graciously accepts the Christopher T. Morgan Scholarship recognizing his service to the college and community.

Honored to receive the Omicron Delta Kappa Excellence in Teaching Award, Dr. James Cook and Dr. Janie Spencer express their thanks to the members of ODK and the rest of the BSC community.

The talented Concert Choir performs William Blake's London at the Honors Day Convocation.

Birmingham-Southern College took May 2, 2000 to recognize the outstanding accomplishments of its community.

Awards Day 2000

Mel McElroy and Melanie Glover are both awarded the T. Bradley Fulkerson Award. Both Melanie and Mel were involved in many leadership roles on campus, making them deserving of this award.

Mike Robinson presents senior, Allison Smith, with the Cheerleader Captain's Award. Allison is well-known for her fun personality, as well as her dedication to the cheerleading squad.

As the first ones out of the Awards Day Convocation Lindsey Peck, Mandi Janis, and Krista Chandler make their way to the lunch being served by Hill Music Hall.

Julie Fowler, editor of The Hilltop News, recognizes Leslie Smith for her outstanding work on the paper. Leslie was also the first place winner in the Vance Speech Contest, further demonstrating her ability to articulate her ideas. Photos by Sireesha Allanneni and Amber Friend.

Jennifer Joseph offers to carry some of Anne Tyler Hamby's awards and help lighten the load. It came as no surprise that Anne Tyler was recognized for her academic excellence, as well as her term as SGA President.

Mitch Robinson, SGA President for the 2000-2001 school year, speaks about his goals for the upcoming year. Mitch also recognized the many accomplishments of this year's SGA.

Gwen Dill receives nothing less than a standing ovation for her many years dedication to BSC. Gwen will be missed next year, as she was a vital part of the Student Affairs office.

The lunch served outside Hill Music Hall allows students and faculty time to relax to the music of the BSC Jazz Band before classes resume for the afternoon.

Exams may seem like the biggest obstacle between a student and summer, but actually it's packing up your dorm room .

Moving Out

Nicole Good slyly cons her mother into packing up "just a few things". Moving out could be overwhelming once a student realized how much he or she had to pack.

Will Thistle does not mind helping a friend load his car. Having a few extra hands often made the move out process go even faster.

That one last shove is what often times keeps all a student's belongings in the car until they reach their destination. Once freshmen move all their stuff home in the spring, they realized how much they would not bring back in the fall for their sophomore year.

Alexa Bullock decides to pack her car at night, knowing this is a wise way to beat the heat. Packing at night allowed many students to be able to wake up early the next day and get on the road.

Matt Jackson is astonished to see the amount of clothes and other items Mim Whatley fit in her tiny Bruno Dorm room. Mim decided to give him the portable TV so he wouldn't tell anyone.

Sophomore Lindsey Stockton hopes to find room in her car for her bulk items from the Caf. With leftover money on the mealcard, many students enjoyed being able to take their favorite snack items home with them.

The long line of cars outside the dorms and the mountains of trash bags piling up on the curb are a sure sign to all that the end of the year is quickly approaching.

Freshman Virginia Sheppard uses one of the boxes she picked up from Student Affairs to pack. The luxury of getting boxes on campus made the task of moving out a little bit easier.

Capping Ceremony

Graduating Seniors and their cappers gather in the Atrium of the Norton Center, awaiting instructions on the order of the ceremony.

Ashley Hanson returns to her seat, followed by her father. Many students chose their parents as their capper, while others chose a professor or a brother or sister.

Troy Knight can only laugh as his father has a difficult time putting the mortar board on his head. As many cappers demonstrated, capping is not as easy as it looks.

The Bruno Great Hall was full the night of the Capping Ceremony. Many seniors invited members of their family to come out and support them.

Proud senior, Shannon Hunt, smiles as her grandfather carefully places the cap on her head. Everyone took a lot of pride in participating in the Capping Ceremony.

Philip Velinov laughs as Dr. Berte struggles a little with the cap. Philip chose Dr. Berte, who has served as a mentor and father figure to him during the past four years.

Mary Stewart Nelson, President of the Student Alumni Association and David Pugh, the speaker for the ceremony, stand patiently with the other SAA volunteers as the processional begins.

Amy Sanders, Jennifer Wilson, and Jenny Wilson take a picture after the Capping Ceremony. For many seniors, it was hard to realize that their four years at BSC were quickly coming to a close.

Graduating seniors take the last step in completing their college careers May 27, 2000 at Boutwell Auditorium.

Commencement

Dr. Berte proudly welcomes students, faculty, and guests to graduation. Dr. Berte also recognized the many achievements the class of 2000 has had over the past four years, demonstrating the outstanding caliber of these students.

Triangle Club member, Susanna Hamner helps senior Brandi Granger with her last minute instructions. The Triange Club volunteers helped direct parents and family members to their seats and handed out programs.

Melissa Bolen, Jackie Alford, and Lacy Johnston are anxious for Graduation to begin as they wait for everyone to line up.

Fraternity brothers Rhett Cooper, Lowery Rhodes, Sam Kirkpatrick, and David Kemp reminisce about their many adventures and fun times they had in college. Eventhough college is over, they will always stay close friends.

Dr. Regina Benjamin, president of the American Medical Association's Education and Research Foundation, speaks to the graduating class about the many influences in her life and how everyone should always strive for excellence in life.

Katherine Bennett and Liz Godwin talk about their "crazy college days" before lining up for commencement.

The Birmingham Museum of Art was the site of the reception after commencement. Students and their families enjoyed the refreshments while surrounded by all the magnificent art work displayed throughout the museum.

Soumya Bhat and Priya Gulatie, both members of PSSO, are prepared for any thirsty guests at the reception. Commencement and the reception could not have been a success without the volunteers from Triangle Club and PSSO that gave their time to help out the college.

I would like to take a moment and thank all those individuals who helped make this yearbook happen. First, to my staff, for their dedication to the yearbook and for putting up with my many voicemails. I would also like to thank the SGA, the Publications Board, Carolyn and Dudley, for supporting me in this endeavor. Also, to Keith Lail, my Jostens Representative, for your advice and patience. Finally, I want to thank my family and friends for their support and encouragement. I could not have done it without you.
